Program Notes:

- 1* ENC1101C can be taken in place of ENC1101. Please see your Advisor for more information.
- 2* This is the recommended course but there are other options. See the General Education Requirements at fscj.edu/ge.
- 3* See the options for the General Education Requirements at fscj.edu/ge.
- 4* Students must take this course (CCJ1020) as early as possible because it's a prerequisite to all other criminal justice courses. Students who do not take this course will not be able to register for any other criminal justice classes and will be delayed in completing their program.
- 5* See the professional elective options on the next page or in the catalog at fscj.edu/2239.
  - The majority of the criminal justice courses are offered in the 7-week sessions.
  - Please speak with the Program Manager at least once a term to ensure timely completion of the degree.
  - The recommended Roadmap presumes that the first term is a Fall term start

CAREER OPTIONS

Graduates of this program are prepared for careers in local, state and federal first responder agencies as well as for other public safety positions, such as public safety project manager, public safety and regulatory specialist or public safety compliance manager. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, employment of police and detectives is expected to grow by seven percent from 2010 to 2020. Continued demand for public safety will lead to new openings for workers in local departments; however, both state and federal jobs may be more competitive.
